For The Tribune. Lake Superior Copper Mines.

Articles have appeared from time to time in the newspapers of almost every part of the country, in relation to Lake Superior and the mineral resources of that region. All, however, have failed to furnish any definite idea to a person never there, of the realides and merits of the country and its general resources. They have almost universally contained a description of some one portion, or the localities of some one or more of the companies; and their effect is the aggregate has been to create not an interest but a desire for more full information on which an pierest might be founded. Enough has been said and published to leave persons of discrimination in sme doubt, and a desire to have those doubts re goved. Some accounts have represented immense sources in Copper, Lead and Silver as being found g certain vicinities ; others, whose interests lay repote, have represented those last, as quite barren is their opinion, compared with others they desigsated. Thus has arisen a conflict of representations, bjarious alike to the country and the interests endeavored to be advanced, by their prejudicial state-

We have for some time past been endeavoring to procure correct information upon this subject, and ave the disjointed and conflicting accounts of various persons who have visited Lake Superior the past season; but each could give but a circumscribed secount of any considerable part of the country having had no complete view to it while there. But we are much gratified that a short time will obviate all present deficiencies in correct information upon the subject of the Lake Superior Country and the Mineral Regions. We have been favored with the perusal of the manuscript of a work of about 150 pages in process of publication, entitled " A True Description of the Lake Superior Country, and the A Correct Account of all the Companies Working A Map of the Mineral Regions copied from the Agency Map, exhibiting by their Nos. the position of every location made: with information for the Capitalist, Miner, Tourist, Invalid and Laborer The Topography, Geology and Mineral Contents of tha Geology: By John R. St. John."

Those who know the author, will be able to form some estimate of the publication; those who do not, in addition to the fact that he was several years Edi tor of the Cleveland Herald, will, by the following extracts and general deductions from the work, be enabled to form an opinion. There accompanies the work, Lieut. Bayfield's Chart of Lake Superior, and the country to the 49th degree, made on authority of the British Government, showing the Boundary Line as established by Joint Commission under the Treaty of 1818: the Mineral Map three feet by one and a half, shows the Coast, Rivers, Bays, Islands and Harbors. The reader is distinctly informed in the prefatory chapter of the nature of the book and its objects by the following extract:

"I am impelled to this publication, too, not more that the truth and real merits of the country may be known, than to show, by such deductions as the careful reader will make, that 'ail is not gold that glitters.' The realities are sufficient ('and to this end must we come at last.') to insure all that should be desirable to accomplish, except the ultric objects of those whose 'baseless fabries of the brain' must fall, and visionary schemes, in the end was completely the property of the state o formish it. Over wrongs, the careful and discreet man sees their whose glossing the careful and discreet mans sees their hollowness, may deceive many and accomplish the ends of some, but will also retard or prevent great results, which candor and truth might have produced, but for the doubts which discovered duplicity throw in the way of investigation."

Again:

"Congregated capital has been necessary in all countraries, Westcott-1, Service, Speight, Sturgeon, Turney, Westcott-1, Nava-Messrs, T. Clayton, Corwin, Davis, Dayton, Phalas Simmons, whose glossing the careful and discreet man sees their

"Congregated capital has been necessary in all countries and times for the development of Mineral resources. Nature in her organization of matter, decreed it 'when the waters covered the face of the earth';—and, much as the has favored this region over all others with her mineral wealth, there is, also, as elsewhere, written upon she has favored this region over all others with her imparal wealth, there is, also, as eslewhere, written upon it. Thou shalt eat thy bread by the sweat of thy brow.' Abundant and pure as are our Lead and Iron, our Copper is not less so; and if there is one fact which characterires the bounty of Nature to ours over the mineral of all other countries, it is that fact and peculiarity of our Lake Superior native Copper, that it is in no instance contaminated with alloys of other metals. The assertion of which fact, when made by Dr. Houghton, was treated as a burlesque by scientific men at home and abroad, who called it 'backwoods mineralogy.'

"True it is, and lamentable too, that wild and exaggerated, not to say entirely false statements have been made of mineral wealth there, to be heaped together without labor or means, which could not fail suddenly to earich the fortunate holder of a few shares of some pa

The following are the companies: Lake Superior Mining Co. The Pittsburgh Company, New York & S. Mining Co. The Superior Company, The Bohemian Company, The Boston Company, The Boston Company, Copper Falls Company, The North American Co. The Lale Royal Company, The Albion Company.

Some of these Companies are working, and have bands of miners at several different locations, where they have erected buildings, and are proceeding vigorously, though all but two have commenced since the first of September last. There are about 400 operatives in the country, and probably 100 keeping locations. The Pittsburgh Company have sent forward 33,577 lbs. Copper ore.

The Lake Superior Company have sent 4,573 lbs. The Lake Superior Company have Native Copper extracted, and estimate they have 1,200 tons of broken ore (rock) ready for stamping. The author says:

"About 20 rods South of the Harbor and 15 feet above it extending East and West, is Lake Fanny Hoe—one and a haif miles long, and 60 to 80 rods wide, with hills 300 feet high tailling suddenly to its South margin; while at both its East and West end several ridges meet—Upon the highest peak of this mountain the first rays of the morning sun are brightening the yellow tinge of the foliage, and magnifying every object upon the summit; the base three its dark shadow upon the Lake that mirrored it with a truthfulness which brought the reflected mountain side to almost cheat the understanding and tempt the foot upon the treacherous shadow. On the right are the neat white buildings of Fort Wilkins; from the staff the soft morning breeze spreads gracefully the 'Daion' displaying the stars and stripes, a guarantee that arder and protection are established in this wilderness of lakes and mountain's top, in ascending circles, rose an Eagle, 'patriarch of his tribe,' who seemed "About 20 rods South of the Harbor and 15 feet above

'Journeying with the morning sun,
Our Northern boundary line to run.'

'The solemn quiet that reigned upon the elements was deepened by contrast, when had ceased the morning drun-beat that brought forth the cleanly equiped sodier, and gaily plumed and appointed officers en parde; and there the miners landing from the mountain side, from their subterranean toils released, sauntered with leisure steps and idle gaze; all which proclaim this a Sabbath morn—observed by reat, as it enly may be,
'Where the sound of the church going bell

The Money Market continues restricted. The Banks are quite cautious in relation to loans, and the offerings are larger than can be accommodated. The two chief causes for the stringency in the market are the sarry aspect of our relations with England and the probable as pect of our relations with England, and the probable revival of the Constitutional Treasury System. The Pril ladelphia Banks are, we believe, in a very sound condition general speaking, and fully prepared for any emergency. EXCELSIOR.

To The Beneficent Father appears to have stored the Earth with every thing, necessary to feed us in health, and to relieve the diseases which our erring earthly parents entailed upon us by their transgression. He has also given us imcliectual and physical powers, which properly directed and accompanied by his blessing, will enable us to discover and improve these free gifts of Trovidence. It is hoped that it is not presumptions to say that this ability to improve the products of nature, so blessed, has led to the production of this valuable medicinal compound, so widely and favorably known as Sands's Sarsaparilla. Certain it is, that housands of sufferers from uncrous maddles, diseases of the akin, rheumatism, dyspepsia, general weakness, bilious disorders, and other affections originating in a mil-condition of the blood, some of whom seemed on the brink of the grave, have been restored to beath and vigor by this preparation; and fortified by such proofs of its efficacy, the proprietors accommend it with earnestores and confidence to all who
